COMMUNITY ASSESSMENT FACILITATOR – Exploration and Assessment of Family Resource Centers in Beltrami County.

Funded by: The Sauer Family Foundation to Beltrami County Health and Human Services (Fiscal Host) for “Beltrami County Family Resource Center (FRC); Explore and Assess” Grant Funding.

Seeking Service provider: A contracted individual consultant, team or agency

Grant period: September 15, 2026, through December 31, 2027

Target contract period: November 1, 2026, through December 31, 2027

PURPOSE

Beltrami County would like to assess the need and support the development of community resources to assist families in building their strengths and meeting their needs to promote thriving children and families and prevent maltreatment.

Family Resource Centers¹ (FRCs)

FRCs exist in multiple states and counties across the United States and have proven to enhance parenting skills; foster healthy development and wellbeing of children, youth, and families; prevent child abuse and neglect; reduce out of home placements; increase school readiness; connect families to resources; develop family and community leadership; engage fathers; and promote family economic success.

FRCs are school or community-based, flexible, family-focused, and culturally sensitive hubs of support that provide programs and targeted services based on the needs and interests of families. While models for FRCs vary widely and no two look the same, they all emphasize community engagement, partnership, and the development of relationships between staff and families based on equality and respect. Resources available through FRCs range from basic needs (such as food pantries and utility assistance) to parenting classes, peer support, family development, leadership development, housing resources, and more. FRCs meet families where they are, help them build on their strengths, and connect them to resources so that they can sustainably meet their needs. They can play an important role in supporting family well-being and in addressing challenges so families can thrive, particularly those issues that are poverty-driven and systemic in nature and can result in unnecessary contact with child protection and/or other involuntary local government services.

¹ Family Resource Centers are also known as and referred to as Community Resource Centers, and these terms are used interchangeably. New legislation in MN relating to the development of Community Resource Centers was introduced and funding designated.

BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT

Beltrami County Health and Human Services applied for a grant from the Sauer Family Foundation in the amount of $90,000 to assess the need for Family Resource Centers in Beltrami County. As a first step, these funds will allow Beltrami County to contract with a Community Assessment Facilitator to complete a community assessment to identify existing family resources, needs, barriers, and gaps of the communities in Beltrami County and propose recommendations to better support families across the County. The Community Assessment Facilitator will be responsible for five important factors of the proposed assessment: 1) facilitate the development of a Core Team. 2.) development of questions and the process for conducting surveys and focus groups with community members in geographic locations across the county; 3) host listening sessions to gather input from key service providers, families, and stakeholders, 4) create a protective- factors aligned inventory and geographic map of existing family resources, referral pathways, informal supports and service gaps and 5.) gather key data points that reflect current strengths, needs and gaps and provide a development blueprint with recommendations for next steps. This assessment will be used to determine the recommended number of Family Resource Centers (FRC), the strategic locations of the FRC's, and the services most needed to address gaps and barriers. The grant-funded community assessment facilitator would network with other MN counties that are developing and launching Family Resource Centers, Minnesota Community & Family Resource Network, the National Family Support Network, the Sauer Family Foundation, and others across the state and nation who have successfully implemented Family Resource Centers. Following the current grant funded assessment phase, additional funding grant requests may be submitted to state and federal entities for the development phase of the Family Resource Centers by identified interested community partners.
